U. S. To Begin Beef Buying To Aid Cattlemen In Drought-Stricken Texas

The Federal government announced Tuesday a 200 million pound beef-buying program aimed at halting declining cattle prices in the parched Southwest.

Beef purchases will begin immediately at the rate of at least ten million pounds of beef each week. Purchases will continue possible for the next 20 weeks, and will include 20 million pounds of canned beef and gravy and 60 million pounds of ground beef for the government-sponsored school lunch program and other public institutions.

Another ten million pounds of canned beef will be purchased for U. S. Army use with 10 million pounds of frozen carcass beef for the Greek Army.

The beef will be paid for from custom receipts funds made available to the department by law for disposal of agricultural surpluses.

Shortly before this announcement, President Eisenhower made eight million dollars available for use in the drought areas of west Texas and Oklahoma and also set aside $240,000 for the flood-damaged areas of East Texas and Louisiana.

The Texas drought-stricken area was defined as follows: All of Texas west of a line from just west of Gainesville and bending down through Corpus Christi. The line passes between Ft. Worth and Weatherford, runs roughly down the eastern edge of the hill country, takes in Bexar County and then cuts back to take in Nueces County (Corpus Christi). It included all counties along the Rio Grande.

The 152 Texas counties included Burnet, Erath, Hamilton, Lampasas and San Saba.

The office has been open until 5 p. m., but with the new change in schedule, it will be closed each day after 3:30 p. m.

Cameron Businesses Will Close July 4

July 4th will be observed as a holiday in Cameron and business and professional firms will be closed, Louis McKee, chairman of the Trade Development Committee, said today.

Mr. McKee said that the decision to close was the result of the recent poll of merchants in Cameron by the Chamber of Commerce. It was voted 110 to 6 in favor of closing.

Shoppers are reminded to complete their week's shopping prior to Saturday, July 4th.

Decline in Draft Calls For Next 12 Months; Texas to Call 15,000

State draft boards are expected to furnish around 15,000 to 16,000 men for the armed forces during the next 12 months, as compared to more than 28,000 during the past 12 months.

That is the opinion of the deputy state director of Selective Service, Lt. Col. Morris S. Schwartz. He said he expected this to hold true regardless of whether or not there is a truce in Korea.

The armed forces see a need for 457,000 men from over the nation in the fiscal year, July 1953 through June 1954, Colonel Schwartz said. They think 150,000 will enlist, leaving 307,000 to be drafted.

"The Texas share of this expected need of 307,000 normally would be 15,000 to 16,000 men," Colonel Schwartz stated. "Regardless of the situation in Korea, we expect a decline in monthly quotas this summer."

Texas draft quotas began to fall sharply in June, when the June quota was 38 per cent less than the May quota. The deputy state draft director pointed out that the number of men drafted depends to a large extent on the number finishing service and getting out.

"We have just concluded a 12-month period," Colonel Schwartz said, "in which many men were completing their term of service. In the next 12 months, relatively few will complete service in comparison with the year before."

Texas draft board members will have to make an estimated 150,000 to 160,000 classifications in the next 12 months to furnish the 15,000 to 16,000 men, Colonel Schwartz said.

He stressed that changing international conditions or national policies could change the Texas draft picture.

Involved in a head-on collision about 10:30 Monday night were Edward M. Slattery of 1923 South 11th St. Temple and Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Anderson of Ada, Oklahoma.

Anderson, 40, who was driving, did not see the stock and ran into them, losing control of his automobile. He hit the four-door Studebaker sedan driven by Slattery head-on.

Mrs. Miskell Anderson was injured in the crash and was taken to St. Edward Hospital for treatment. Neither of the men was hurt.

Slattery, 28, was en route from Houston to Temple at the time of the accident.

Western Auto Store Is Fully Renovated For 16th Anniversary

Work which has been in progress for three weeks has been completed on a fullscale renovation of the Western Auto Associate Store. New, ultra modern fixtures have been installed throughout and streamlined arrangements have been made which will place this establishment in the forefront of stores of its type in Central Texas.

Harry Haraway, owner of the firm, states that the remodeling job was timed to coincide with the 16th anniversary of his opening in Cameron. Incidentally, Mr. Haraway states that this is also an anniversary date for Western Auto Supply Company, the giant automotive and home supply concern from which all goods for the Cameron store are bought. Don Davis and George Pepperdine opened their weak and wobbly little business in 1909 in Denver, and have watched it grow to the biggest concern of its kind in the world, with 3500 company and dealer stores throughout the nation.

It was in 1937 that Haraway came here from Dallas to enter the merchandising field. Since that time many changes have taken place. The store grew under the direction of Mr. Haraway from a small store on Main Street to its present size and location on 1st street. In 1941 he married a local girl, the form (See Western Auto Back Page)

Loans on 1952-Crop Cotton To Be Carried Till July 31, 1954

The U. S. Department of Agriculture announced June 22 that Commodity Credit Corporation loans on 1952-crop upland cotton which have a maturity date of July 31, 1953, will be carried in a past-due status through July 31, 1954. This will give producers an additional 12 months in which to redeem their loan cotton.

Producers may either sell their "equity" in the loan cotton or redeem the cotton from the loan and then sell it in the open market. The market price of the various qualities of cotton has varied materially during the year, but, at present prices, farmers should be able to dispose of some qualities of cotton at prices that will give them some net profits above the loan and charges against the cotton.

The 1952-crop loan cotton not redeemed prior to August 1, 1954 will be purchased on that date by the Commodity Credit Corporation.

According to Black, Brown swerved, trying to miss the Tomasek car, but failed in his attempt and hit it on the left rear bumper and fender. The Tomasek car suffered only moderate damage. Damage to Brown's car was quite extensive on the right front end.

Both cars were covered by liability insurance.

Welfare Checks for Texans Will Be Late

Austin—Public welfare checks to more than 250,000 Texans will be late this month.

State Public Welfare Department Director John H. Winters said Tuesday release of the checks must await congressional approval of a new appropriation for the department of health, education and welfare.

The appropriation bill has passed the house and is now in a senate committee. The senate must approve it and the President sign it before the money can be sent to Texas and the welfare checks released.

"The checks are ready and will be mailed as quickly as the money is received," Winters said.

The delay involves more than 220,000 old-age assistance checks, 6000 checks for the needy blind and 17,623 checks for aid dependent children.

Mesdames R. G. McLeod and Anna Mae Henderson and Eddie Lankford are attending summer school at Mary Hardin-Baylor, Belton.

Cameron residents woke up Monday morning to find welcome rain pouring in the windows and soaking their gardens. The official measurement came to 2.73 inches of rain for Cameron and vicinity.

Monday morning's fall brings the total rainfall for Milam County to 17.34 inches thus far this year: 1.34 in January, 2.16 in Feb., 2.50 in March, 3.21 in April, 5.61 in May, and 2.52 in June. At this time in 1952 we had received 16.99 inches of rain: .93 in Jan., 3.38 in Feb., 2.29 in March, 5.55 in April, 4.19 in May and .65 in June.

Rainfall was scattered in the eastern section of the state Sunday. Showers were reported in Tyler, Lufkin, Houston, Beaumont, Galveston, Texarkana and Palacios.

Parts of thirsty West Texas received good rains Tuesday. Shackelford and Throckmorton Counties reported five inches of rain. Abilene had 2.31 inches, but the rain tapered off to .70 inch at Colorado City. More than an inch fell at Vernon and in the surrounding Northwest Texas country.

The northeast part of Cameron received hard showers between 1:40 and 2 p. m. Tuesday. As there is no measurement gauge in that part of the city, no official figure is available. Unofficial estimates place the moisture at .4.

Contract Awarded for Two Rockdale Water Wells; Pump Failure

The Hardin Drilling Company of Austin has been awarded a contract for the drilling of two additional water wells for the city of Rockdale. Actual drilling operations are expected to commence within this week.

The Austin company submitted the lowest of three bids on the project, naming the amount $20,160.

The water wells, being drilled under the Federal aid program approved for Rockdale several months ago, will relieve the problem of increased water consumption in Rockdale. Officials explained last week that the citizens were using more water than could be pumped in a 24-hour period from the six wells in operation. Rockdallians were asked to voluntarily conserve water to avoid water rationing.

Car Struck While Running Red Light

Failure to heed a red light signal resulted in a two-car crash about 6 Friday afternoon.

According to City Marshal Joe Richter who investigated the accident, Mrs. A. L. Kennon failed to stop for the overhead red light signal at the intersection of North Fanning and East 23rd Street. Mrs. Wesley J. Schreiber, who was proceeding on the green light, struck the side of the Kennon car as it reached the middle of the crossing.

Marshal Richter stated that neither car received serious damage. The right back fender of the Kennon car and the front of the Schreiber car were dented. Both cars were covered by insurance.

Nothing kills
like dieldrin

says Ernest Wofford, Valley Sprayer Company
(Contract Sprayers)
404 East Highway
Pharr, Texas

Mr. Wofford tells his experience with dieldrin:

"During the 1952 season my company sprayed over 60,000 acres of cotton with dieldrin. I've used a lot of insecticides through the years but nothing kills cotton insects like dieldrin. Dieldrin reduced a 98% infestation to zero after three applications in accordance with the State of Texas late-season control program.

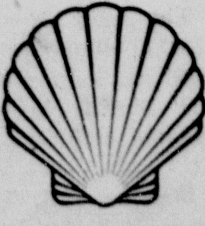

"Over the years I have applied approximately 3,000 cotton research experiments, a great many of which have been in conjunction with the Texas Experiment Station at Weslaco. Dieldrin is 50% more effective on weevil than any product on the market today, and believe me, I've tried them all."

Dieldrin is the only officially recommended organic control for boll weevil in the lower Rio Grande Valley after weevil migration. That's because dieldrin lasts many days . . . keeps on killing in hot, dry, windy weather.

For bollworm use a dieldrin-DDT mix. Dieldrin-DDT gives better bollworm control than any single cotton poison commercially available.

Order dieldrin or dieldrin-DDT from your insecticide dealer. Why not call him today?

Red Tape Eliminated In Hiring Mexican Cotton Workers

If Texas cotton cannot be harvested by local labor this year and farmers are forced to contract for Mexican Nationals to get the job done, they will find a considerable amount of red tape snipped from old procedures, the Texas Employment Commission announced today.

Effective July 1, the procedure which originally took from five to six weeks to obtain Mexican Nationals, will be shortened to the extent that farmers will be able to get these workers in a week or ten days, TEC said.

Not only has much red tape been eliminated, but the farmer's cost has been reduced—from $15 per worker to $11 on the original contracts and from $7.50 to $5.50 for recontracting, the agency pointed out.

Under the old contracting procedure, farmers submitted orders all the way from 30 to 60 days in advance of actual need. This procedure worked a hardship on the farmer because information given today possibly would not be valid 30 or 60 days hence because of weather, crop conditions or some other reason. On top of all this, the order for Mexican Nationals had to be reviewed and approved by the Washington office of the Bureau of Employment Security.

This plan has been junked for one more workable. Now, the farmer needing workers goes to an office of the Texas Employment Commission and places an order. If TEC determines that local or migratory workers are not available to do the job at the time and place specified by the farmer, then the local office will prepare an "Authorization to Contract Mexican National Agricultural Workers." The farmer will then select one of three Reception Centers—El Paso, Eagle Pass, or Harlingen—where he intends to pick up his workers, and the local office of the TEC then mails the authorization to that point. The farmer then must send his check ($11 per worker) to that Reception Center. As soon as the check is received by the Reception Center, machinery is set in motion to get the workers from the interior of Mexico. The farmer is notified by the Reception Center when the workers are available, TEC said. The farmer must also submit a "Statement of Housing Facilities," which describes the housing and living facilities offered. These must meet minimum standards for the number of workers he needs.

A farm employer who used Mexican Nationals in 1952 will not be required to furnish such statement this year, provided he does not request more workers than he had in 1952. If he does need more workers than he used in 1952, a new statement of housing and facilities will have to be furnished, TEC said.

The County Agricultural Agent's office offers homemakers a timely bulletin on preserving fruit, called "Foods for the Family Table."

House Group Hears Texans Tell Of Drouth Problems

Washington.—Texans gave the House Agricultural Committee their views Thursday on what measures should be taken to save stockmen from ruin in drouth-stricken areas of the Lone Star State.

President Eisenhower also was expected to act on a request from Governor Shivers to declare the drouth sections a disaster area, thus opening the way for aid under the president's emergency fund.

In other developments on Wednesday:

The president notified Governor Shivers that the request for emergency federal aid for the drouth disaster victims is being studied.

Rep. Walter Rogers of Pampa introduced a bill in the House which would authorize the Farmers Home Administration to make loans to drouth-stricken farmers, who in turn would pay off their credit obligations to banks.

Secretary of Agriculture Benson announced he will tour the Texas drouth areas and meet with cattlemen in San Antonio after a similar meeting Saturday in Lubbock, where he also will address the American Cotton Congress.

Rep. W. R. Poage of Waco and other Texans have proposed that the Commodity Credit Corporation be authorized to sell cottonseed meal at below-market prices, with the difference being made up from the president's emergency fund.

The Waco lawmaker also has said he is drawing up a bill under which the government would guarantee loans made by banks.

Roger's bill extends the authority of the Agriculture Department to make loans under an existing law which authorizes loans to areas "of production disaster" where private capital is not available.

MILAM COTTON

(by J. D. Moore, County Agent)

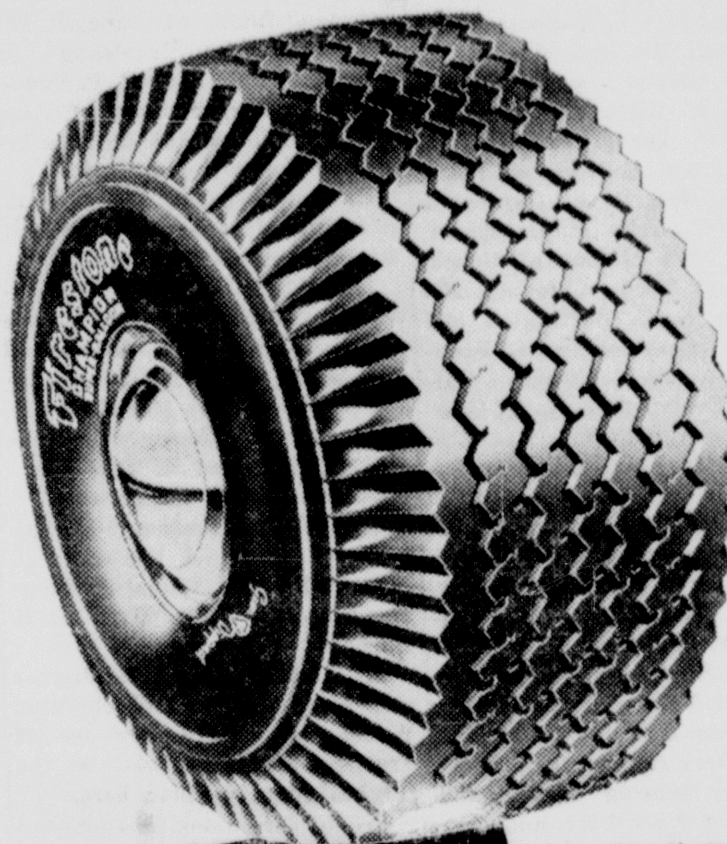

Recent rains will help the cotton crop considerably. The older cotton was shedding off quite a lot of squares. The shedding of squares was more apparent for these reasons. Early season poisoning made it possible for the plants to set all the squares early and at one time. The extreme heat during June was too much for the plant to continue to grow and hold the fruit. March and early April cotton was in a most critical stage of growth.

In general, insects are not bothering the crop. There was a noticeable outbreak of the Red Spiders in the Marak-Yarrellton communities as well as other spotted locations in the county. Spider mites multiply rapidly. There may be as many as 17 generations a year. Hot, dry weather is most favorable for rapid multiplication. A heavy rain often checks an outbreak. Entomologists recommend the use of one pint of Parathion (25% emulsion) per acre for best control. This material has an advantage over T.E.P.P. in that it is effective 3 to 4 days where T.E.P.P. lasts only a matter of hours.

TEXAN PARADE

By ROSS PHARES

Pioneer Texans often appeared more practical than orthodoxly pious in their prayers—which may indicate that in the early days they considered the Lord more real and more intimately concerned about them than they do now.

The story is told of a frontier deacon who had a decided weakness for the bottle. He got on a terrific bender one night and thought he was dying. He called his wife who was a devout woman, and asked her to pray for him. She fell to her knees and prayed: "Oh Lord have mercy on my poor drunken husband." The deacon heard her from the next room and called to her: "No, no, Margaret! Don't tell Him I'm drunk, tell him I'm sick!"

Urgency of business often took precedence over prayer, though already started. A visiting preacher was saying grace—a lengthy one—during which the host looked out the window and exclaimed: "Cut it short, Parson. The cows are in the garden playing hell with the cabbage."

Often the backwoodsmen were awkward and embarrassed at the presence of a clergyman in the home. Not versed in the fine phrases of religious etiquette, they simply had to do the best they could. A traveling preacher told of an instance in a frontier home when, at the table, instead of being asked to say grace, the host said: "Parson, it's up to you."

At bedtime, when the minister suggested having prayer before retiring, the husband said: "Well, pitch in."

One notable lack of formal piety was shown by a churchwoman, who upon presenting the visiting preacher with Bible and hymn book, insisted upon knitting while the preacher held prayer in her home. Seemingly, it was her custom to pray while knitting, and she saw no reason why it should detract from the effectiveness of the preacher's prayer.

All-out faith in the immediate answer to prayer is illustrated in a story of an old maid, who feeling that her opportunities were fast coming to an end went out into the woods, greatly depressed, to meditate upon the matter. She finally concluded that since there was no apparent hope in men she would call upon the Lord for help. She knelt down and prayed fervently: "Oh Lord, hear my prayers. This day send me a man. Send me a man, Oh Lord, that I may not be so lonesome."

At that moment an owl in a nearby tree sounded out: "Who! who! who!"

The old maid jumped to her feet and shouted with joy: "Anybody, Lord, just anybody."

A minister who frequently preached upon the joys of heaven often ended his sermons with the cry: "Hurry up Gabriel, and blow your horn." A member deciding to test the preacher's sincerity, hired a boy to hide himself in a nearby treetop and blow a hunting horn in response to the minister's prayer for an early judgment.

The sonorous sound of the horn so soon after his prayer brought a quick supplication: "Lord," he cried out, "you ought to know I don't mean everything I say."

A certain sister, convince that she was weary of the woes of this world, went out to a place near a high bank, knelt and requested of the Lord that if it was His will, she might be taken from this world of sin and sorrow to a better one where she might rest. While thus praying, a slight shock occurred and some of the bank fell off and struck her on the back. She jumped up, brushed the dirt off, and exclaimed: "Well, I do declare. What's this world coming to. Now-a-days everything a body says is taken in earnest."

Some immigrants were overwrought at the sight and report of the evil doings on the frontier. They seemingly felt it duty to keep the Diety alerted as to the conditions of the wild country through which they traveled. Stanley Vestal in "Queen of Cowtowns: Dodge City" quotes this prayer said to have been delivered in a prayer meeting held by a band of immigrants just outside of Dodge City:

"... Thy Divine Providence has thus far kept us safe. We have survived cloudbursts, hailstorms, floods, strong gales, thirsts and parching heat as well as raids of horse thieves and attacks of hostile Indians.

"But now, Oh Lord, we face our greatest danger. Dodge City lies just ahead, and we must pass through it. Help us and save us."

THE LITTLE RIVER PHILOSOPHER HIGHLY IN FAVOR OF BILL TO ALLOW LIVING EXPENSES TO COME OFF INCOME TAX

Editor's note: The Little River Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm at Marlow obviously is on a wild goose chase this week, but there are certain charms about his proposal, even though he'll get nowhere with it, with Congress.

It's customary I know to take pot shots at Congress, a man who can't find something bad to say about Congress any given day in the week just ain't tryin', but I read in a newspaper last night where the House of Representatives in Washington voted a message which I take my hat off to.

That is, I'll take my hat off to provided they extend the measure to take in the entire country.

The bill will allow a Congressman to deduct as legitimate expenses on his income tax whatever it costs him to live in Washington. As I understand this, Congress figures a Congressman's living expenses while he's in Washington are bonafide business deductions for income tax purposes, and if there ever was a step in the right direction, that's it.

It hasn't been the income tax rate that bothers people, it's the size of the tax itself, and the only reason the size is big is because the government doesn't allow a man to take off enough expenses.

Now under this new plan, provided it's extended to everybody, not just Congressmen, a man could take off all his living expenses on his income tax report. Now we're getting somewhere. I figure if I try hard enough I can always make my livin' expenses come out to where they exactly take up all my income tax, and under such an arrangement who cares how high the income tax rate goes?

But you take under the present system, it doesn't matter how far a man goes in the hole trying to make a livin', if he makes a paper profit he still has to pay an income tax, whether he's paid his grocery bill or not.

Of course, Congress may not intend to extend this new system to all the country, but I always say what's good enough for a Congressman ought to be good enough for me, and I figure my livin' expenses out here on my Johnson grass farm are just as important to me and the economic welfare of the country as a Congressman's livin' expenses in Washington, and I'm in favor of bein' allowed to deduct mine too.

People who've been harpin on the necessity of cuttin' down on the income tax rate have been workin on the wrong end of the problem. All we need to do is increase the number of expenses we can deduct, and let the rate alone. Let me know the minute Congress extends this measure to everybody, as I sure want to come out even this year.

Yours faithfully,

luctance in calling upon the Lord for His cooperation in violent endeavors, to be conducted according to their own earthly strategy: One backwoods preacher is said to have delivered this prayer during the Moderator-Regulator war in East Texas:

"Now Lord, if any Regulator or Moderator makes any effort to revive their disturbances, curse him with the loss of eyes, destroy his limbs that he may never be able to walk, curse him when he sits down to eat, curse his fields; and if this will not stop his hellish career, kill him and send him down to his own place. Amen."

Cattle Prices Up at Livestock Market in Ft. Worth Monday

Swimming Pool Not To Be Entered After Closing Hour at 9

The Cameron Municipal Swimming Pool has been the victim of some thoughtless persons who insist upon using the pool after closing hours.

After climbing over the fence, these trespassers have been throwing anything available into the pool. Rocks, bottles, grass, newspapers, wire, etc., have been dumped into the water without thought. As these create a serious hazard for swimmers, the pool employees must drag these items from the bottom and scoop them from the surface every morning. This is a time-consuming, annoying, and somewhat dangerous task.

The enclosing fence, too, is suffering damage. R. E. Windham, who is in charge of the pool, asks that EVERYONE refrain from entering the pool enclosure after 9 p. m., the closing hour.

Mrs. Hensley Drives Over Four Thousand Miles to College

This article appeared in the Friday, June 19, issue of THE COUGAR, weekly publication of the University of Houston. Members of the HERALD staff thought it would be of interest to many of their readers.

"Would you travel 4480 miles in one semester to finish your college education?"

Mrs. Frances Hensley, third grade teacher in Ada Htnlerson Elementary school of Cameron, did just that last semester. Two hundred eighty miles for 16 Saturdays just about adds up to a trip from Houston to Paris.

Half of a mother-daughter team which now resides in Dormitory D at the university, Mrs. Hensley laughs when she remembers the only time she was late to class. "The alarm failed to go off until 6:00. I usually got up at 3:30. I made it to class late, but I had to skip breakfast which I always ate in Hempstead."

When Mrs. Hensley signed up for an 8 a. m. class at the university she scoured Milam County for some other student to accompany her. "But I couldn't sell anyone on the idea of getting out of bed so early in the morning."

Early rising is no problem in Mrs. Hensley's home. She lives on a farm with her husband and two children six miles out of Cameron on the Buckholts Road, 40 miles from Houston. Farm life starts early for the Hensleys because chores have to be done before the family drives into town during the school week. Husband Roy teaches vocational education to veterans in Cameron.

Another member of the family is 11-year-old Billy who is a student in the school where his mother teaches. It was Billy who accompanied his mother on her weekly trips to the university when she failed to find a rider.

How did Billy spend his time on campus while Mrs. Hensley attended class?

He watched television in Oberholtzer Hall lounge, listened to lectures, watched programs in different campus auditoriums, attended all the interscholastic le-

Miss Jo Ann McLane Honored At Seated Tea On Saturday

The lovely home of Mrs. Jesse Brock was the setting Saturday afternoon for a seated tea given by Misses Ann Brock and Sammie Dell Markham, honoring Miss Jo Ann McLane, chosen bride of Lt. Sherwood McClaren.

The floral arrangements throughout the party rooms were a compliment to the tastefully arranged collection of antiques. The serving table was laid with a hand made Chinese linen cloth, a family heirloom, and centered with an unusual piece made to represent the world, topped with figurines of a bride and groom surrounded with asters in pastel shades of orchid, pink, blue and yellow. This unique decoration carried out the theme of the tea, "Sitting on Top of the World".

Miss Hortense Nabours met the guests at the door. The receiving line consisted of the hostesses, Misses Ann Brock and Sammie Dell Markham; the bride elect, Miss Jo Ann McLane; the bride's mother, Mrs. Drayton McLane; and the mother of the groom, Mrs. Sherwood McClaren.

The many guests who called during the appointed hours were led into the dining room by Mrs. Earl Davis of Harlingen, Mrs. Jess Brock and Mrs. James Brock. Those who assisted in serving were Miss Patricia Davis and Miss Kate McLane, who served squares from the beautifully decorated cake garlanded in pink tulle and dwarfed asters, and Miss Josephine Matecha who served punch. In addition, the guests were served salted nuts and dainty little mints in the shape of wedding bells and orange blossoms.

WHAT "Service first" MEANS

The word SERVICE in its many uses has many meanings... but as applied to Texas Power & Light Company...

it means a million and a half people depending on electric power, day and night, for work or play;

it means countless sparkling lights brightening a busy city at night, or the glow of a single lamp by which to find the baby's bottle;

it means automatic refrigeration for preserving a hospital's supply of penicillin, or keeping a pint of ice cream ready to serve at dinner;

it means saving a life with a timely X-ray, or relieving an ache with a heating pad;

it means carefree, automatic cooking and easier housekeeping for the modern homemaker;

it means hearing and seeing the world's best entertainers right in a comfort-cooled home by the simple flick of a switch;

it means an elderly couple receiving their dividends on their investment in the Company... dividends that have come without delay each quarter for nearly half a century;

it means a factory may have three full work days of production during any 24 hours... more employment, bigger payrolls, better working conditions;

it means engineers and scientists devoting their lives to finding more and better ways to bring more comforts and benefits to more people;

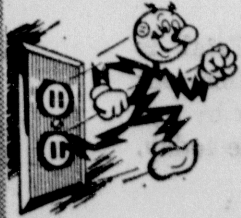

it means a crew of linemen working all night in sleet or rain to maintain electric service during and after a storm;

it means a friendly smile and courteous treatment for every customer by each employee of the company;

it means cooperation with electrical dealers to the end that their business may prosper and, in turn, more families may enjoy the benefits of modern electrical living;

it means an alert, civic-minded organization always working for the development of the community, and the welfare of the people... to bring in new industries, more families, new payrolls; to establish a sounder, more profitable agriculture... participating wholeheartedly in all civic projects benefiting the entire community.

TP&L SERVICE means all these things and many more. It is a service which helps to make a house into a home... a store a better place in which to shop... a factory a better place in which to work... a community a better place in which to live.

Presbyterian Bible School Closes With Showing of Films

The Presbyterian Church Bible School closed June 24 with a brief evening program in the church auditorium. Following the program by the children, films of two previous Bible Schools and a film titled "Treasure Islands" were shown.

About 50 children were enrolled in the ten-day school. Classes in Kindergarten, Primary, and Junior-Pioneer groups were held each morning.

Workers in the school included Rev. and Mrs. John Solomon, Mesdames A. H. Hightower, V. J. Hannon, Edwin Adams, Lyle McDermott, Hugh Smith, and R. D. Brown, and Misses Betsy Vogensang and Ann Knipp.

Medical Society, Nurses, Guests Of Aluminum Company

The Milam County Medical Society had its monthly meeting in Rockdale Tuesday night, June 23. Members of the society, together with their wives, the Milam County Nurses Association, and several doctors from surrounding counties, were honored as dinner guests by the Aluminum Company of America.

Prior to the meeting, the guests were conducted on a tour of the Alcoa buildings to give them a better understanding of the workings of the plant.

Rites For Former Cameron Teacher Are Held in Baytown

Funeral services for Mrs. Olive Devaney Pruitt, who died June 22 at her home in Baytown, were held Tuesday in that community. Graveside services took place at 10 a. m. Wednesday at Marlow, with Marek-Burns Funeral Home making the local arrangements.

She was the sister of Mrs. Virgil Coward of Cameron.

Mrs. Pruitt was born September 24, 1889. For the past 15 years she had taught in the Baytown schools, and was teaching English and journalism at the Baytown High School at the time of her death. At one time, as Miss Olive Devaney, she taught in the Cameron School under the supervision of Mr. Watts.

She is survived by one daughter, Mrs. Janice Kan of North Carolina; one sister, Mrs. Coward; one brother, Hugh Devaney of Baytown; one niece, three nephews, and one great-nephew.

Anthony Maxfield of Calvert is in St. Edward Hospital for surgery.

In the company cafeteria, Alcoa presented an address by Dr. Dudley Irwin, of Pittsburg, Pa., Medical Director of the Aluminum Company of America. Also present was Dr. Paul Bovard, consultant radiologist from Pennsylvania.

This combined meeting was arranged by J. D. Harper, works manager for the Alcoa plant in Rockdale, and Dr. John Richards, vice-president of the society.

Exams For Merchant Marine Cadet Corps To Be Given Next Spring

Congressman W. R. Poage announces today that the United States Merchant Marine Cadet Corps has informed him of a change of procedure in handling its appointments.

Selections of candidates are made by open competitive examinations held by the United States Civil Service Commission. The next examination is to be held April 5, 1954 at civil service centers throughout the United States.

At that time the Merchant Marine Cadet Corps hopes to select 300 young men to commence a four-year course of training at its academy at King's Point, New York, this being equivalent to a regular college course. Upon completion, the graduate is qualified for a license as United States Merchant Marine officer and a commission as Ensign, United States Naval Reserve.

Information pertaining to such examinations can be secured from Congressman Poage, he says, or direct from the Corps itself, in Washington, D. C.

Application forms, and bulletin for high school seniors are also available, according to Representative Poage. He points out, however, that these are NOT political appointments, and that he has absolutely nothing to do with the examinations, or with the selection of candidates.

Mrs. D. C. Richards of Minerva is a patient at Newton Memorial Hospital.

August Draft Quota Of 1,235 Is Lowest For State This Year

Austin, June 23.—A draft quota of 1,235 men from Texas for August, the lowest this year, was announced by State Selective Service headquarters Tuesday.

Director Paul L. Wakefield said local board quotas will be mailed the first week in July.

The quota is Texas' share of the national August call for 23,000 men. Texas' July quota announced previously is 1,286. The June call was for 1,749.

Only 48 of the state's 137 local boards received calls for pre-induction examinations in July, Wakefield said. He said it was doubtful if all would receive examination quotas in August.

The August call is to be filled with men 20 years old or older where possible but boards will be authorized where necessary to fill calls for men under 20, he said.

Rev. and Mrs. Henry Brown and Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Krupicka and daughters, Sandra Lee and Julie Marie of Waco are spending a two week vacation in California and Montana. In California they will visit Mrs. Krupicka's sister, brother-in-law, and family and Mrs. Brown's uncle and aunt. In Montana they will spend a few days with Mrs. Krupicka's mother, father, and grandmother.

The OASIS on your route

The traveler of ancient times sought rest and refreshment at an oasis on his route.

So does the traveler of modern times... he stops at an oasis that prepares his automobile for another hundred miles or more of driving... at an oasis that provides ice water and a chance to stretch... at an oasis that offers clean and sanitary rest rooms... at an oasis where our traveler can give and get a friendly greeting.

Today's oasis is the service station on the American highway.

It makes your trip. It provides your contact with the country through which you're driving. On its driveway you feel at home; you get the impression wherever you stop, that this is your America.

Not one service station, but thousands of them. All along the highways you'll find them staffed and equipped to give your car the expert care it requires, to make your brief visits on their driveways comfortable and pleasant.

The service station where you buy gasoline and motor oil is your chief contact with the American oil industry. It is probably an individual enterprise; and it competes to give you better service and better products than another station down the street or on the other side of town. No small part of the oil industry's progress in the service of the motorist finds final expression on service station driveways.
